School chief will move on

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

Steven Lawrence, Superintendent of the Washington Unified School District since 2006, has accepted a new job at the helm of Concord's Mount Diablo Unified School District. He will leave his West Sacramento position at the end of January.

Lawrence told the News-Ledger that the move to a larger district is for "professional growth as well as family opportunities." He said he is happy with his experience at WUSD.

"It's been a pleasure," he said. "It was not an easy decision to make to apply for another position. This board has been wonderful to work with, and we've created a good team."

He will be leaving a district that – like others in California – is trying to weather a severe recession and cutbacks in state funding. But Lawrence believes WUSD is in comparatively good shape.

"We've created a balanced budget in these difficult times, and some of our surrounding districts have had to cut back on class size reduction and take other measures," said Lawrence. "And we haven't had to go through layoffs."

In his tenure in West Sacramento, Lawrence has seen the construction of a "beautiful" new high school campus and helped "move the district to a K-8 model," he said.

H1N1 vaccine still not widely available in Yolo

There is still no firm date as to when the vaccine for H1N1 virus will be available to the Yolo County public at large.

County spokesperson Beth Gabor told the News-Ledger this week that vaccine production delays as well as distribution trouble at the state level haven't yet been overcome.

To date, she said, enough vaccine has been distributed to serve about 13 percent of California's population.

"At this point," Gabor said in an email, "most of the vaccine is going to health care providers in Yolo County and we are encouraging Yolo County residents to contact their health care providers. That being said, providers are also receiving limited supplies and as a result are targeting only their high risk patients, i.e., pregnant women, caretakers of those under six months old, and children."

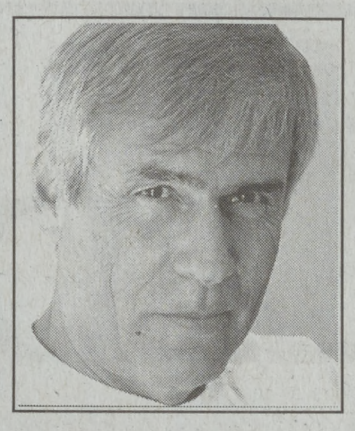
The county government has received some of the vaccine – and that has gone to "high risk" clients in the Women, Infants & Children program and to health care providers for use with their own high risk patients.

"At this point, we are out of vaccine and awaiting future shipments," said Gabor. "The availability of vaccine amongst health care providers in Yolo County varies, but they also expect future shipments."

Yolo County will wait until it has received enough shipments of the vaccine before it announces any "shot clinics" for the H1N1 ("swine flu") vaccine, said Gabor.

A time when shopping wasn't so important

My Back Pages



By Daryl Fisher

I was standing in a lengthy line the other day out at the Arden Fair Mall Shopping Center doing a little early Christmas shopping when I suddenly found myself listening (okay, eavesdropping) to a conversation between two women who were chatting away about their plans for the day after Thanksgiving, which isn't that far away now.

"I can hardly wait for Black Friday," said the taller of the two with a big grin. "Are you going to be doing what I'm going to be doing?"

"Are you kidding?" answered the shorter of the two. "Of course I am! And I plan on being out my front door no later than five o'clock in the morning! Last year I got a late start and I definitely won't be making that mistake again!"

Not having a clue what the two women were talking about, I asked myself what in the world could Black Friday be? I vaguely remembered hearing the phrase somewhere before, but I couldn't seem to recall the context. Wasn't that the day investors were jumping out of high-rise windows in New York City back in 1929 when the Stock Markey crashed, I thought to myself? Or maybe it was a Friday back in the Middle Ages when more people died from the Black Plague than on any other day? Anyway, I ended up thinking about it all the way back home and the first person I saw when I walked in the front door was my daughter, so I asked her if she had ever heard of the phrase.

"You don't know what Black Friday is, Dad?" my daughter asked in amazement.

"I'm afraid not," I admitted.

"Well," she explained after looking at me like I had been living on the moon, "it's the day after Thanksgiving when all the big stores have really huge sales to attract customers, and other than the last day before Christmas, when everyone does their last minute holiday shopping, it's the biggest shopping day of the whole year."

More specifically, I learned that Black Friday is actually the day that most retail businesses hope to finally go into the black (in terms of profitability) for that business year and that there really are sales galore scheduled to attract potential shoppers throughout the country. And sure enough, when I went online to get some more information about it, there were all kinds of stories (and film footage) from previous Black Fridays, with crazed consumers of all ages stampeding into stores and pushing aside fellow shoppers and even ripping away merchandise already in the hands of others. And as I watched this spectacle in disbelief, I couldn't believe that so many people were willing to risk life and limb just to get themselves a Black Friday bargain. I mean, who wants to have on their tombstone: Trampled to death while shopping in Wal-Mart?

I was mentioning all this to my mother over the weekend and she explained to me that there actually was a time in this country 's history (and not all that long ago, either) when shopping in general, and shopping for bargains in particular, wasn't the only reason for lots of Americans to exist.

"When I was young," said my mother, "most everyone lived out in the country and shopping was something we hardly ever did. If we did go into town, it was just on Saturday for a few hours, and outside of picking up some sugar and flour, we didn't spend much time in stores. My mother made almost everything we needed at home. She would take hand-me-down cloth from some of our friends and neighbors and sew clothes for us kids, and when it came to food, we already had most everything we needed right there on our property. We had chickens and caged rabbits for meat, and mom also did lots of canning of the vegetables from our garden. Plus we had a cow for milk and butter and cheese and there was always fruit on nearby trees, so shopping in stores was just something that wasn't a very big part of people's lives back then."

"But what if you needed a tool or a radio or something like that?" I asked with interest.

"Well," she explained, "my dad could make or fix most anything, plus every house where I lived always received the Sears and Roebuck catalog and also the one from Montgomery Wards, and anything we needed that we couldn't make ourselves or find in the few stores that were in town, we would just order out of one of those two big catalogs. But since no one had a lot of money to waste on such things, we mostly just looked at the pictures."

Then my mother suddenly started to smile and I asked her, "What's so funny?"

"Well," she said, "I was just thinking that back then those pages in those catalogs weren't really used all that much to buy things – they were mostly used for toilet paper."

"You know," I said, returning her smile, "now that's actually a pretty good commentary on what has happened to this country over the years in terms of everything now being so commercialized. I mean, we live in such a consumer-driven economy now that if people ever stop buying all the crap they don't really need, we and the whole world will be in one big economic hurt!"

"Well," said my mother, "I don't know about all that, but I do know that all those fancy and colorful catalogs that come in my mail nowadays would have been pretty much worthless back when I was young."

"How come?" I asked.

"Because the pages are too glossy and slick now."

> 'We had chickens and caged rabbits for meat, and mom also did lots of canning of the vegetables from our garden. . . So shopping in stores was just something that wasn't a very big part of people's lives back then.'

Keep an eye on food prep, & stay healthy

By Ada Barros-Heiser, Health Educator & Cheryl Boney, Director Public Health Programs County of Yolo

The holiday season is fast approaching, and what better way to celebrate than bringing friends and family together around a table of hearty and healthy food? Whether you enjoy a home-cooked meal with family or celebrate by going out to a restaurant, the last thing you want to worry about is food-related illness.

Very rarely do we stop to think if the temperature of the yummy looking roast chicken at the grocery store is appropriate, or if the guy behind the counter making your peppermint mocha has washed his hands. Not to worry, these are things that the Yolo County Health Department's Environmental Health Consumer Protection Team keeps an eye on.

Food related illness is a serious matter. Food related illness could result in short-term pain and discomfort or long-term chronic disease and even death. To prevent food-borne illness, Yolo County environmental

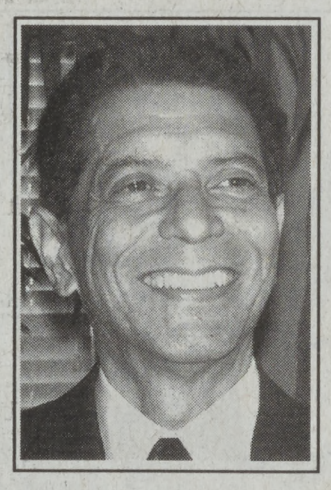
SPORTS INSIDER



By Richard Novoa

The Sacramento State Hornets sports program enjoyed the university's finest sports weekend in the school's history, especially with their last second 31-28 victory over their arch-rival U.C. Davis Aggies in the 56th Causeway Classic in Sacramento.

Maybe it was jerseys they wore, all with Mattos name on the back in honor of former coach Bob Mattos, who is battling brain cancer. It was a big win for CSUS who beat Davis for the second consecutive year in their Causeway Classic series, in which the Aggies, who use to dominate the woeful Hornets in years past, now leads the Classic with 39 wins to 18 losses.

The Hornets beat Davis 31-28 before a tremendous crowd of 17,127 at Hornet Field but the big news was up North were the Men's basketball team was beating Oregon State in Nike-town. The Men's basketball, who posted a 2-27 record last season, was surprisingly leading the stunned Beavers by 22 points at half time and somehow managed to hang on for a 65-62 win in Corvallis, Oregon.

The Hornets, who are 2-30 all-time against Pac-10 team, have not beaten a Pacific Conference team since December 17, 1953 when they beat Washington State 45-44. The Hornets last road win against any team was on Dec. 30, 2006 in Northern Colorado so this win ends their 38-game road losing streak.

The CSUS Men's soccer team also earned the school's first appearance in the NCAA soccer tournament and beating Loyola Marymount in the first round before being eliminated in the second round by soccer powerhouse U.C.L.A. 2-1 last Sunday in Los Angeles. Go Hornets!

Kings Korner

The Kings (5-8) are having a hard time hanging on to the ball during their current three game losing trip turning over the basketball at least 21 times in three of their last four losses. The good news is that the young Run and Gun Kings are having fun on the court and playing with heart which has been lacking for some time.

Coach Westphal is still tinkering with his starting lineup and it will take time to find the right combination in his rotation especially with all the new faces on the roster. He has been playing Kenny Thomas at forward to shop around his $8.7 million contract that expires after this season in hopes of landing some help at the center position.

On Monday night in Memphis, Sacramento lost 116-105 and in their second back-to-back game in Houston the Kings were defeated 113-106 after losing 104-102 the previous night in Dallas. The Kings are still missing Kevin Martin and Francisco Garcia but Donte Greene has earned his way into the starting lineup scoring a career-high 24 points replacing Andres Nocioni and Tyreke Evans, who are nursing minor injuries.

The Kings young guns are starting to find their rhythm especially Donte Greene who had another nice night against the Rockets making all five of his shots from the floor and Spencer Hawes enjoyed his best night of his career in Houston scoring 24 points and hitting a couple of three-pointers while grabbing 9 rebounds and rookie Omri Casspi joined the fun grabbing 8 rebounds with 17 points.

The Kings, who are getting better and really fun to watch, will be returning to the friendly confines of the Arco Arena on Wednesday, November 25th to host the New York Knicks and after a day off to enjoy their Turkey Day the Kings will host the winless (0-13) New Jersey Nets (7 p.m.) followed by a Sunday, November 29th (6 p.m.) night game against New Orleans.

NFL week 12

The Oakland Raiders (3-7) pulled off their own little miracle last Sunday scoring 10 points in the last 33 seconds of the fourth quarter to stun the cocky Cincinnati Bengals 20-17. Too bad only 34,112 die hard Raiders fans attended the game to witness the upset of the year.

Credit someone, either Coach Cable or Big Al Davis, for making the quarterback change that kept the Raiders in the game until the final minutes. Although the offensive only produced 275 total yards the defensive played well and quarterback Bruce Gradkowski made enough plays to keep the Raiders hopes alive until the final fumble recovery that led to the winning field goal.

On the other hand the 49ers (4-6) were being manhandled in Green Bay losing to the Packers 30-24 after spotting the Packers a 23-3 first half lead. The Niners, who had nine days to prepare for the Packers, played well enough to win the game but their offense coordinator returned to his conservative ways again calling for short passes and showed no imagination in his play selection.

Quarterback Alex Smith had another horrible first half of football throwing the ball around like a scared little kid. Smith didn't throw a pass in the first half longer than 10-yards down field and ended up with a grand total of five yards passing at halftime! Somebody needs to tell him there are two halves to a football game.

This Sunday (1 p.m.-FOX) the 49ers will be at home trying to climb back into the playoff picture against the Jacksonville Jags while Da Raiders travel to Dallas (1:15 p.m.ch.13) on Thursday for a Turkey day dinner meeting.

Aztec's Picks

Aztec the dog is back in his cold dog house after losing all five of his picks last week even though his cousins the Fresno Bulldogs, Detroit Lions and N.Y. Giants all won their games but failed to cover the spread to drop the dog's season record to 29-24.

The "College Lick of the Week" is Arizona (-3) over Arizona State but this week in the NFL is going to be tough again with the bad teams starting to wake up and play football and some major injuries shaking up the playoff contenders. On Turkey day the Packers (-5) will beat up the Lions and on Sunday the Niners (-3) beat the Jags in a must win game while the Falcons (-11 ½) get back on track at home against Tampa Bay and on Monday night the Saints (-3) will keep marching on the Pats.

Enjoy your Thanksgiving holiday – see ya next week!

Easy Ideas For A Greener Home-Maintenance Routine

(NAPS)—Many people think that being eco friendly at home requires excess free time and loads of research. However, going green is a lot easier than it looks. Daily activities such as using the computer, taking a shower or vacuuming the floors can be made greener with some practical products and services.

Jackie Cooper, director of marketing and communications for Electrolux®, explains that even cleaning appliances such as vacuums can be eco friendly.

"The Electrolux Ultra-Silencer Green™ is a 'greener' vacuum that's energy efficient and made out of 55 percent recycled plastic," Cooper says. "The majority of the plastic used in this vacuum is recovered from recycled, shredded cars."

The packaging of the vacuum is also eco friendlier, made from 80 percent recycled, unbleached cardboard.

Equipped with a high-efficiency suction fan unit and bare floor nozzle, this hard-surface canister vacuum provides a thorough clean for bare floors while using only nine amps of power.

Besides offering a better clean for the environment, UltraSilencer Green also reduces noise pollution for a more enjoyable cleaning experience. At only 60 decibels, it operates at the noise equivalent of a normal conversation.

Daily activities like using the computer, taking a shower or vacuuming the floors can be made greener with some practical products and services.

Additional features on the vacuum include a 360-degree swivel hose; a washable, reusable HEPA filter; and additional cleaning tools such as a crevice tool and dusting brush/upholstery nozzle combo tool that clips to the hose handle.

Cooper offers these additional tips for simple ways to go green at home:

• Recycle batteries—Recycling at home should go beyond cans and plastic. Used batteries can also be recycled instead of thrown away. To find a location to properly recycle batteries, visit rbrc.org.

• Give computers a rest—Save a substantial amount of energy by turning computers off at the end of the day instead of leaving them on overnight or defaulting to "sleep" mode. A shut-down computer will save valuable energy and money; according to ENERGY STAR, a program of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, shutting down can save consumers approximately $90 a year.

• Cut back on the mail—Save a tree by reducing your junk mail intake. Register with the Direct Marketing Association's Mail Preference Service at www.dmachoice.org to see a significant reduction in junk mail within a few months.

• Know your H_2O—Reduce home water usage by purchasing a water-efficient showerhead. With low-flow models, a family of four can cut water usage by as much as 280 gallons a month— and still not feel much difference in water pressure. For added savings, keep showers under 10 minutes per person.

For more information about UltraSilencer Green or other Electrolux products, consumers can call (800) 896-9756 or visit www.electroluxusa.com.

Inexpensive Ways To Improve Your Curb Appeal

(NAPS)—You can have a home that's a delight to dwell in and easier to sell when the time is right for less than you might think. Here are hints on how to improve your curb appeal:

• Painting—Whether it's on the doors, trim or the house itself, a quick coat of paint can change the look and feel of a property.

• Landscaping—A well-maintained yard, with manicured shrubs and a well-edged lawn, can help grab a buyer's attention—and the right shade trees can help cut cooling costs.

• Replace aging vinyl or aluminum siding with bricks—Brick exteriors can make your home more comfortable and re-sellable, and the latest technology is making brick siding even more affordable and durable.

Novabrik, an innovative, mortarless brick technology never needs painting, prevents mold and won't warp, dent or fade and is warranted to last 50 years. This new building material is a snap to install and has more staying power than vinyl siding or stucco.

The lovely look of brick can make your home more comfortable and more valuable.

Because it's made of a high-strength concrete, the technology can withstand the effects of severe weather, high winds and fire. Its special "rain-screen" design prevents water from penetrating the wall from the outside, and the mortarless construction promotes airflow in the wall cavity, thus removing any moisture coming from the inside and helping to prevent mold decay.

Novabrik installs as well as the look of traditional brick for 15 to 20 percent less. Also it can be installed year-round, even in freezing temperatures, making Novabrik a perfect solution for homeowners.

Several colors, sizes and styles are available as are interior and exterior corners, window sills, wainscot caps and corner strips.

MANAGING YOUR MONEY

What You Need To Know When Figuring Out Your Financial Future

(NAPS)—When it comes to financial planning, doing practically anything is probably better than doing nothing, but there are a few pitfalls to avoid on your road to a comfortable future.

To help, Eleanor Blayney, CFP®, consumer advocate at Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, has come up with a list of a dozen steps not to take:

Blayney

1. Thinking the opportunity has passed you by. While it's true that the younger you start, the better off you'll be, financial planning can be worthwhile at any age.

2. Failing to set measurable financial goals.

3. Making a financial decision without understanding its effect on other financial issues.

4. Confusing financial planning with investing.

5. Neglecting to re-evaluate the financial plan periodically.

6. Thinking financial planning is only for the wealthy.

7. Thinking that financial planning is for when people get older.

8. Thinking that financial planning is the same as retirement planning.

9. Waiting until a money crisis to begin financial planning.

10. Expecting unrealistic returns on investments.

11. Thinking that using a financial planner means losing control.

12. Believing that financial planning is primarily tax planning.

Put Planning To Work For You

To avoid the mistakes listed, realize that you are the focus of financial planning. The results you get from working with a financial planner are as much your responsibility as they are those of the planner. To achieve the best results from your financial planning, consider the following advice:

Peace of mind may be easier to achieve with proper financial planning.

• Set measurable financial goals. Set specific targets that you want to achieve and when you want to achieve them. For example, instead of saying you want to be "comfortable" when you retire or that you want your children or grandchildren to attend "good" schools, quantify what those words mean so you'll know when you've reached your goals.

• Understand the effect of each financial decision. Each financial decision you make can affect several other areas of your life. For example, an investment decision may have tax consequences that are harmful to your estate plans. A decision about your child's education may affect when and how you retire.

• Re-evaluate your financial situation periodically. Your goals may change over the years due to changes such as an inheritance, marriage, birth, house purchase or change of job status. Revise your plan as time goes by to reflect these changes so you stay on track with your long-term goals.

• Start planning as soon as you can. People who save or invest small amounts of money early and often tend to do better than those who wait. Similarly, by developing good financial planning habits, such as saving, budgeting, investing and regularly reviewing your finances early in life, you'll be better prepared to meet life changes and handle emergencies.

• Be realistic in your expectations. Financial planning is a commonsense approach to managing your finances to reach your life goals. It's a lifelong process and can't change your situation overnight. Events such as recession, inflation, or changes in the stock market or interest rates will affect your results.

• Realize that you're in charge. When working with a financial planner, be sure you understand the process and what the planner should be doing. Provide the planner with all relevant information on your financial situation. Ask questions about the recommendations offered and play an active role in decision making.

Choosing a financial planner is a critical decision, so take the time and care to select a trustworthy financial planner, one on whom you can depend for professional advice and services. One of the most trusted credentials for financial advisers is CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™, or CFP® certification, which is granted by Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc. (CFP Board) to individuals who meet its rigorous standards of education, examination, experience and ethics.

OPINION

health specialists:

· permit and inspect over 700 retail food businesses including restaurants, markets, school cafeterias, bakeries and bars, in addition to over 400 mobile food vendors and special event food booths

· review construction plans and inspect new and remodeled food facilities

· investigate complaints regarding California Health & Safety Law violations, including unsanitary conditions

· investigate suspected food-borne illness cases

Between January and September of this year, Yolo County has conducted 397 inspections of retail food businesses. Along with the inspections, they provide education to the food handlers and business owners. They have made the results of these and previous inspections easy for the public to access online. An online food-borne illness reporting program has also been implemented to make reporting quick and easy. This system has enabled Yolo County to respond to reports faster and gather information and samples while still available. Since January, staff has performed over 20 food-borne illness investigations, including three major food-related outbreaks.

There are several things consumers can do to protect themselves from food-borne illness this holiday season. Turkey is often associated with holidays and parties, but turkey can also be associated with food-borne illness if it is not thawed, prepared, cooked and stored properly. Here are some helpful tips:

· Keep it cold – 40°F or less. Buy fresh turkey only 1 to 2 days before you plan to cook it and keep it properly stored in the refrigerator.

· There are three ways to thaw turkey safely — in the refrigerator, in cold running water or in the microwave oven. Allow plenty of time for thorough thawing.

· Cook it well – to at least 165°F. A food thermometer should be used to ensure the safe minimum internal temperature has been reached to destroy bacteria and prevent food-borne illness.

· Keep it hot. Set oven temperature high enough to keep the turkey at 140°F or above until just before serving.

· Cool it. Keep leftovers out at room temperature for less than 2 hours. Remove from heat and cool quickly by placing food in shallow metal pans. Promptly place in the refrigerator, uncovered. Cover foods after cooling is complete.

For more information about the Yolo County Health Department Consumer Protection Program call (530) 666-8646 or visit www.yolohealth.org, to view restaurant inspection reports as well as report a suspected food-borne illness. Letters to the Editor

Your help is needed!

Once again we reach out to the community to help the West Sacramento Christmas Basket Project provide a good holiday meal for those in need. This year is looking to be the most tremendous effort yet. So many folks are in dire need due to the downturn in our economy. Many have lost their jobs, homes, and hope. Let us be able to help our fellow West Sacramentans at least have a good, nutritious mean this holiday season.

For the past 37 years we have worked with various businesses, churches, service organizations and concerned individuals to provide this meal. In the past we have averaged 950 families, but it looks more like 1,100 families will be calling on our services this year. Through the tireless efforts of volunteers, community partners and friends, our gifts have been applied 100% to those who need it most.

Please make a generous contribution now with a check payable to the West Sacramento Christmas Basket Project, PO Box 1236, West Sacramento, CA 95605-1236. The monies will go first to filling the needs for food – and prices have gone us substantially. Any extra will go to toys.

For additional information or to get a collection box for your establishment, call 372-3360.

and holiday refreshments. The event also marks the first appearance of the season for jolly old Santa, who will pose for family photos.

"This year's celebration is not without a few challenges!" commented Chamber CEO, Denice Seals. "Plans had been made to move the festivities to another location, but then tragically all the decorations for the tree were destroyed in the fire at the old firehouse. Rather than scrap the event, we chose to look at the situation as an opportunity for the entire community to participate!"

Residents and businesses are encouraged to donate one large (football size) plastic outdoor ornament to hang on this year's tree. Donations can be made by Wednesday, December 1st at the Parks and Rec counter in City Hall.

For information about the community Holiday Celebration, please call the Chamber of Commerce at (916) 371-7042.

PICKS OF THE WEEK

"Julie & Julia"—This is one of those films that sort of came and went in theaters and didn't receive the kind of hoopla it should have—because "Julie & Julia" is a gem of a film. It stars Amy Adams as Julie Powell, a young woman who takes on the fool's errand of spending a year cooking every dish in Julia Child's masterwork, "Mastering the Art of French Cooking." Powell's story is interspersed with the early life of Julia Child (played with atomic gusto by Meryl Streep) and her love affairs with her husband, France and cooking.

"Julie & Julia" is a captivating little film, and the performances are all top-notch. Granted, Streep has the easiest job; because Julia Child was such an ebullient, telegenic personality in her own right, all Streep had to do is not cross the line into caricature. Amy Adams has the more difficult role, having to play a less flamboyant person and still hold her own against Streep's tsunamic performance.

I highly recommend "Julie & Julia." Not only is it a delightful date movie, but afterward you'll want to stampede into your kitchen and whip up something that's loaded with butter.

"Lost: The Complete 5th Season Dharma Initiation Kit"—If you're a fan of "Lost," you're already planning to get the Season 5 boxed set, but if you're a hardcore fan and love innovative packaging, this is the set you want to own. Not only does it come with all the Easter eggs and a bajillion special features, this set also includes a VHS tape of a Dharma training video, pamphlets, maps, stickers (and in select packages, a submarine patch), plus all the discs are sleeved to look like floppy discs.

"Harry Potter and the Half-Blood Prince"—This is the big, hoo-hah release of the week. This sixth film in the series, while not the best ("Prisoner of Azkaban" still holds that spot), it is one of the better ones. Because it's a major release, the film is being packaged nine ways to Sunday: From single-disc, barebones editions to multi-disc, packed-with-extras extravaganzas. There's not really much else to say. It's Harry Potter. You either love it or not. Happy shopping.

WHAT WERE THEY THINKING?

"AK 100: 25 Films of Akira Kurosawa"—To celebrate the 100th anniversary of the birth of legendary filmmaker Akira Kurosawa, the Criterion Collection is releasing a massive boxed set of 25 of his films. The price? $400. Ayup, four hundred smackaroos. I mean, let's face it, if you're already a Kurosawa fan, you already own half the films included in this set. So, who is this for? Fans aren't going to shell out that kind of money for stuff they already own, just to get the four previously unreleased on DVD films and a half-dozen or so of his lesser works. And I can't imagine a person who has just discovered Kurosawa paying that much money on a whim. Still, the collection comes in a pretty red box, so it's got THAT going for it.

New York 400: A Visual History of America's Greatest City with Images from the Museum of the City of New York
Text edited by John Thorn
(Running Press, $40)
Reviewed by Larry Cox

Four hundred years ago, Henry Hudson sailed along the river that bears his famous name. Little did he realize at the time that the tiny port would eventually become America's largest and most famous city. To commemorate this historical event, the Museum of the City of New York has opened its archives to share more than 500 images tracing the city's colorful history.

Divided into 16 chapters beginning with Henry Hudson's arrival in 1609 and ending with immigrants reshaping the city during the 1990s and early years of this century, "New York 400" explores the city inside and out. Rare images — including engravings depicting the treaty between Governor Minuit and the Native Americans, and an Indian village of the Manhattans prior to the occupation of the Dutch — show the very beginning of the region's recorded history. Early maps, prints and paintings bring this period into sharp focus.

The Museum of the City of New York's vast archive includes more than 1.5 million objects and images. Many of the images selected for New York 400 are being published for the very first time, providing a fresh, new perspective of the rich visual history of New York.

The introduction by John Thorn and his running commentary via captions scattered throughout the book add just the right touch. Thorn, a prominent New York journalist, also served as editor-in-chief of the project.

"New York 400" is more than just another collection of images tracing the rise of a great American city. It is a celebration of what both New York and our country are all about, and a fitting tribute to the melting pot that is America. This magnificent book deserves to be on your coffee table.

Chocolate-Dipped Pretzels

These pretzels are super easy to whip up to give as a gift. Dip them a day ahead, and pack them in a box lined with waxed tissue paper. Don't forget to remind your friends that pretzels are best eaten within a week — if they're even around that long!

- 8 ounces milk chocolate, broken into pieces
- 27 (8-inch long) pretzel rods
- Flaked coconut and/or green, red and white sprinkles (for topping)

1. Place chocolate in microwave-safe measuring cup or mug. Heat, covered with waxed paper, in microwave on High 1 to 2 minutes or until chocolate is almost melted, stirring occasionally until smooth.

2. Meanwhile, place each topping choice on separate sheet of waxed paper or on individual plates.

3. Holding 1 pretzel rod at a time, dip in melted chocolate, tipping cup to cover about half of rod with chocolate. Allow excess chocolate to drip off pretzel back into cup. Immediately sprinkle coated pretzel with choice of topping. Carefully place coated pretzel rod in pie plate or shallow bowl, leaning uncoated portion on edge.

4. Repeat with remaining pretzels (try to keep pretzels from touching one another in pie plate), and refrigerate about 20 minutes to set coating. Store pretzels in tightly sealed container, with waxed paper between layers, at room temperature up to 1 week. Makes 27 pretzels.

The Kitchen Diva BY Angela Shelf Medearis

Herbal Vinegars Make Great Gifts

Herbal vinegars are a wonderful gift from the kitchen. They're delicious when sprinkled on salads, vegetables or broiled meats. You can use either fresh or dried herbs, or fresh or frozen fruit when preparing the vinegars. Pouring heated vinegar over herbs that have been slightly crushed helps extract the flavor of the herbs. Almost any type of vinegar with at least 5 percent acidity may be used, except malt vinegar. The flavor of malt vinegar is too strong to blend well with herbs or fruits.

After preparation, herbal vinegars should be stored for one to three weeks in a cool, dark place to allow the flavors to mingle. Herbal vinegars will keep indefinitely, and make great homemade gifts. Do not make herbal oils for gifts. Unlike commercial oils, homemade herbal oils lack enough acidity to preserve them. Homemade herbal oils also tend to turn rancid and may cause botulism.

Decorative bottles like those used for wine or bottled water are perfect containers for your herbal vinegars. Sterilize the bottles or jars with boiling water before using them. Line bottle caps or jar lids with a piece of foil, or place a piece of foil over the mouth of the jar or bottle to prevent the cap from rusting. Bottles with a cork or cruets are also perfect containers.

Place a decorative label on the bottle or jar describing the herbal ingredients used. Containers may be decorated by tying a raffia bow, a few herb sprigs or dried flowers around the neck of the bottle or jar. Wrapping strands of brightly colored yarn or strips of festive wrapping paper that have been dipped in glue also add a decorative touch.

HERBAL VINEGAR

- 2 cups vinegar (distilled white, cider or wine)
- 4 to 6 tablespoons of fresh or dried herbs (tarragon, chive, basil, marjoram, dill, sage, rosemary, savory, mustard or bay leaves, in combination or alone)

1. If using fresh herbs, rinse them and pat dry with a paper towel. Bruise herbs by rolling over them once or twice with a rolling pin. Place herbs in a sterilized jar.

2. In a small, non-corrosive saucepan, heat vinegar until it is warm to the touch but not hot. If using a microwave, place vinegar in a glass bowl and heat on low power for about 30 seconds. Pour the vinegar over the herbs. Let the mixture cool.

3. Place a piece of foil over the mouth of the jar and seal it tightly. Label the jar and place the herbal vinegar in a cool, dark place for at least 7 days and up to 3 weeks so that the flavors have a chance to mingle. After the flavors have infused, place several layers of cheesecloth inside a funnel and strain the vinegar into a sterilized bottle or jar. Leave at least an inch free at the top of the bottle if inserting a cork or glass stopper. Makes 2 cups.

Environmental Remediation of 1725 West Capitol Avenue

Bid Site Walkthrough: There will not be a bid-site walkthrough

The proposed work consists of the following:

Description of Work: The City of West Sacramento is seeking bid proposals to implement the Remedial Action Plan (RAP) dated July 6, 2009 and approved by the Regional Water Quality Control Board on September 10, 2009. The RAP is available at the State Water Board's Geotracker website.

The work consists of site preparation activities necessary to construct four groundwater wells; well abandonment; mobilization, installation and operation of a temporary groundwater extraction and treatment system, water treatment and discharge; perform in-situ chemical oxidation pilot followed by two additional chemical injection events in accordance with the RAP and under the oversight of the Environmental Consultant. The contractor shall also be required to perform direct push borings for chemical oxidant injections.

Contractor will be responsible for obtaining all necessary permits; completing necessary health and safety, traffic control, operations, decontamination and storm water pollution prevention plan along with ensuring site security until demobilization is complete.

In addition, the work shall also include the replacement of any pavement, sidewalk, curb and gutter or public and private improvements removed or damaged as a consequence of the execution of this Contract.

Completion of Work: Remedial work shall be completed within One Hundred Ten (110) calendar days from the date designated on the Notice to Proceed. Post remediation activities will continue through April 2010, or earlier dependent upon soil and ground water analysis and regulatory clearance.

Obtaining Contract Documents: Plans and specifications may be examined at the office of the Director of Community Development, 1110 West Capitol Avenue, 2nd Floor, West Sacramento, California. A copy of bid documents may be obtained at the office with a $20.00 payment, or may be mailed, upon request, with a payment of $25.00. The amount of the payment is non-refundable.

The bid and general requirements of the remediation contract will be administered in accordance with the Project Specifications. The Technical requirements of the contract will be administered in accordance with the City of West Sacramento Standard Specifications of 2002 and the General Conditions contained in the contract documents, and other standard specifications referenced in the Contract Special Provisions.

Submission of Bids: All bids must be submitted not later than the time prescribed. The bidder is wholly responsible to see that the bid is submitted at the time and place designated for the opening of bids. Any bid received after the time and date specified shall not be considered. Any bid may be withdrawn prior to the scheduled time for opening bids.

Each bid must conform and be responsive to this notice and shall be made on the official proposal forms furnished with the contract documents.

Attention is directed to the provisions of the Business and Professions Code Section 7028.15 which makes it a misdemeanor for any person without a valid contractors license (with specific exceptions) to submit a bid to act as a Contractor to a public agency.

Addendum(s) Issuance Verification: City staff will notify all contractors either by fax, email or US mail, of the issuance of any addendum(s), if any. However, it is the Contractor's sole responsibility to verify that he received all addendums, if any, and to include all issued addendums in his bid. Submittal of the bid without inclusion of all addendums will be considered non-responsive and the bid will be rejected.

Bid Guarantee: Each proposal must be accompanied by cash, a cashier's check, certified check or bid bond, executed on the prescribed form, in an amount not less than ten (10) percent of the total bid price payable to the City of West Sacramento.

Bidders are hereby notified that in accordance with the provisions of Government Code Section 4590, securities may be substituted for any monies which the City may withhold pursuant to the terms of this Contract to ensure performance.

Licensing Requirements: Prime Contractor shall possess a valid California State Contractor's License class A and/or B with a valid Hazardous Substance Removal Certification issued by the State of California Contractor's Licensing Board.

Prime Contractors with California "A" or "B" class license can act as the prime contractor if they subcontract all drilling work to a "C-57" contractor. All Subcontractors and Specialty Contractors shall hold such licenses as may be required by the laws of the State of California for the performance of all the work specified in the Contract Documents.

Alternatively, a "C-57" contractor may act as the prime contractor provided that the work performed by "C-57" contractor constitutes more than 50% of the total value of ALL the work specified in the Contract Documents; and any work specified in the Contract Documents outside of the "C-57" classification is performed by Subcontractors and Specialty Contractors holding such licenses as may be required by the laws of the State of California for the performance of the work.

City of West Sacramento Business License: General contractor, all subcontractors and specialty subcontractors must pay for and obtain City of West Sacramento business license before starting the work.

Award: The award shall be made to the lowest responsible bidder whose proposal complies with the specified requirements. The award of Contract will be made by the Director of Community Development, and the Contractor shall execute the Contract within ten (10) days after he has received the Contract from the City.

No bid may be withdrawn for a period of sixty (60) days after the opening of bids.

Rejection of Bids:

a. Bids may be rejected if they show any alterations of form, incomplete bid, erasures, additions not called for, or irregularities of any kind.

b. The City of West Sacramento reserves the right to waive any minor irregularity or clerical error and award the contract, provided the minor irregularity or clerical error does not materially affect the bidder's bid.

c. The City of West Sacramento reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Disqualification of Bidder: If there is a reason to believe that collusion exists among any bidders, none of the bids of the participants in such collusion will be considered and the City may likewise elect to reject all bids received.

Relief of Bidder: Attention is directed to the provisions of Public Contracts Code Section 5101 and following, concerning relief of bidders and in particular to the requirements therein that if the bidder claims a mistake was made in his bid, the bidder shall give the City written notice, within five (5) days after the opening of bids of the alleged mistake, specifying in the notice, in detail, how the mistake occurred.

Wage Rates: Bidders are hereby notified that the California Director of Industrial Relations has determined the general prevailing rate of wages for each craft, classification, or type of worker needed to execute the work. It shall be mandatory for the Contractor and any subcontractor under him to pay not less than the said specified rates to laborers and workmen employed by them in the execution of the Contract. Prevailing wages will be paid to all trades involved in this remediation.

Bonds: The successful bidder will be required to furnish a payment bond in an amount equal to one hundred (100) percent of the Contract price, and a faithful performance bond in an amount equal to one hundred (100) percent of the Contract price.

Liquidated damages: See Contract Provisions, General Conditions, Section D, # 8 Failure to Timely Complete the Work.

'Second degree murder' for DUI traffic fatality

A 42-year old Bay Area man has been convicted of second degree murder, gross vehicular manslaughter while intoxicated, hit and run, felony driving under the influence, and other charges – all in connection with a 2006 accident that killed a man on West Capitol Avenue.

A press statement from the office of Yolo County District Attorney Jeff Reisig said that Kevin King was convicted of those charges after hitting 59-year old Ist Deo Sharma at about 1:45 a.m. one night in May, 2006. Sharma was walking in a marked crosswalk and died instantly when hit by King's van.

King left the scene, said the D.A.'s office, although a firefighter administering first aid to a citizen in an unrelated case nearby tried to get him to stop. King later left his vehicle at the port, and was arrested nearby.

He had been on probation for his third DUI in ten years, said the D.A.'s office. At the time of his arrest, his blood had "significant amounts of cocaine (and) marijuana, and a smaller amount of alcohol."

He faces a sentence of approximately 20 years to life, and will be sentenced on Dec. 18.

of comments about Lawrence by email.

"It's hard to lose such an exemplary superintendent," said Leland.

She added that in his job evaluation by the board, "his overall performance went beyond satisfactory to exceeding expectations in many areas."

She credited Lawrence with a "laser-like focus on student learning, despite the massive infrastructure and facilities changes in the past years."

Lawrence said that after the Thanksgiving break, he will present the board with some options on how to pick his successor.

the crew from RCRC (Port of Sacramento), although negotiating the curvy 5000 meter course presented an unusual challenge for the coxswains and rowers.

The men's varsity 8+ started things off for the RCRC juniors with an impressive first place finish (17:40) against tough competition from Serra High School and Pacific Rowing Club. The crew was commanded by Mara Behar (coxwain), and rowed by Nick Klein (stroke), Carson Green, Sven Kohls, Nick Auvil, Graham Linley, Richard Chew, Aric Hopkins, and Jacob Machschefes.

The women's 4+ team of Monika Darwish (cox), Bridget Mazet (stroke), Fatima Sy, Juliann Machschefes, and Sage Purkey finished the course in 23:17 which gave them a 5th place finish, 1:36 behind the first place boat from Pacific.

Next up, Candace Kelly and Clair Premzic competed in the women's double race; while they lead the race at the 2000 meter mark, negotiating the difficult turns cost them time, and they ended up fourth in a field of 8 with a time of 25:02.

Competing against strong crews from Newport and Pacific, the men's 4+ crew of Behar (cox), Peter Schreier (stroke), Evan Roper, John Mark Hopkins, and Liam Cox finished in 6th place with a time of 21:10.

The women's lightweight 4+ grabbed third in 23:48, coxed by Darwish and rowed by Claire Finn (stroke), Vanessa Rivas-Bernardy, Elaine Dana, and Danya Axelrad-Hausman.

In the final race of the day for the juniors, the men's pairs rowed strongly and placed 3rd (Nick Klein and Carson Green in 22:03) and 4th (Nick Auvil and Sven Kohls in 23:38).

RCRC returns to action on December 13, when the novice and varsity squads will both compete at Lake Natoma for their final race of the fall season. Their spring season featuring shorter 2000 meter races will begin in January, and RCRC encourages interested athletes to come try their hand at this unique sport.
